

DR. MARAL KIBARIAN SKELSEY, MD

Dermatologic Surgery Center of Washington

Dr. Maral Kibarian Skelsey is among the most experienced and respected Mohs Surgeons in the country. Her expertise is in the early detection and treatment of all types of skin cancer. Additionally, she employs her advanced skills as a surgeon to achieve superior cosmetic outcomes. As a regular presenter of research at conferences nationally and internationally, she remains at the forefront of the latest science behind skin cancer and complex dermatologic conditions. Dr. Skelsey is the founder of the Dermatologic Surgery Center of Washington. The Center continually researches and employs the latest technology, often the first to offer pioneering treatments in the Washington, D.C. region. The Center was one of the first practices in the country to use Melafind early skin cancer detection technology and introduced DermTech to Washington, D.C., an innovative non-invasive test for melanoma. Her skill as a physician is complemented by her compassion for her patients. She is known for her commitment to healing the whole person -taking time to thoroughly review her patient's history, to answer questions and to review treatment options. Dr. Skelsey's training in dermatology, pathology and reconstructive surgery allows her to preserve natural appearance following cancer surgery. Dr. Skelsey is a Fellow of the American College of Mohs Surgery, American Society of Laser Medicine and Surgery and Director of Dermatologic Surgery and Clinical Associate Professor of Dermatology at Georgetown University.
